MAEC LOAN JUSTIFICATION FOR BORROWING LARGE FUNDS

YEAR 2024

Illustration:

1. History has shown that small loans do not reach the poorest people in Africa's remote villages.

As a result, poverty is sweeping across the globe. Similarly, if a nation borrows small sums of money, it will not be able to reach every rural village in the country.

A nation with a population of around 15 million. To make every citizen happy, we must invest €200,000 for each individual so that he or she can enjoy independence throughout their lives. That amounts to approximately €3.1 trillion euros, which should be used to build the nation's perfect modern infrastructure and provide the best livelihood for every citizen, such as food, beautiful housing, transportation, healthcare, social happiness, and so on.

The large borrowing of €100 billion loan is being paid back by the nation's public and private citizens through 24/7 production in collaboration with MAEC partners, solely through receivables and profits.

2. CONS OF BORROWING SMALL MONEY:

Money and development are not distributed evenly across the country, which creates animosity between governments and the poor.

Too little money, as well as insufficient distribution, breeds deadly corruption.

Most corruption incidents in various countries are driven by scarcity. Creating massive abundance is the key to combating corruption and its vices.

Small money has zero developmental impact. Projects designs get too small and ineffective.

3. RECENT HISTORY OF LARGE BORROWING JUSTIFICATION:

Examples of successful countries that borrowed large sums:

- Greece borrowed €400 billion euro to get out economic siege. Spain and Portugal borrowed $100 billion each to recover from a decade-long economic collapse.
- Recently Vietnam and other Asiatic were rescued by China with large sums of dollars as China defended them from being financially taken over by America.

4. LOAN SUCCESS CONFIDENCE BUILDING:

Because this loan will directly benefit various government departments, all national economic players are expected to support it fully. The ministries of agriculture, energy, industry, justice, water, transportation, and mines, among others, should fully support this success.

The defense forces, prisons, police, and other cooperating entities should all provide unreserved physical assistance in their respective fields.

Special interest groups, church ministries, women's groups, youth groups, and others should all play a role in carrying out this massive economic growth mandate.
